DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I, claims 1-15 and 42-45 in the reply filed on January 10, 2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-15 and 42-45 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jacobs et al. US 6,013,528 in view of Little et al. US 6,024,925.

Jacobs et al. discloses an analysis device that includes a dispensing tip (nozzle), analyzer aspirator, and a preferred light-tight enclosure connected to the spectrophotometer by passageways using a pair of fiber optic cables. The fiber optic cables are connected to the nozzle and the spectrophotometer. (column 12, lines 24-32).

Jacobs et al. does not disclose xyz liquid handling robot and a plurality of nozzles.

However, Little et al. discloses robotic liquid handling device that consists of 16 probes housed in a probe block and mounted on an X Y, Z robotic stage. (column 14, lines 37-39).

The robotic xyz stage and robot driver is capable of maneuvering of probes (nozzles) for loading, unloading, dispensing, and cleaning. (column 14, lines 28-30).

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to recognize the single nozzle embodiment maybe modified to such to incorporate a robotically movable multiple nozzles as taught by Little et al. to allow for numerous functions such as dispensing, loading, unloading, and cleaning.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. O'Keefe; Matthew et al.; Fernando; C. J. Anthony et al.; Davis; Bruce R. et al.; Bullen; Andrew et al.; Jovanovich; Stevan B. et al.; and Hubbard; Allyn et al. disclose fiber optic devices.
